

The Consumer Bankers Association (CBA) has chosen to challenge Indiana's Telephone Privacy law. I fully support the law as it is and strongly oppose CBA's position. I am fully capable of contacting my bank if I need a service. I do not need to be haraassed by unwanted telephone calls.

However, if it were a requirment that the caller,his or her boss, and their bosses up to the chief executive had to give me their personal home and cell phone numbers each time I was disturbed so I could call and try to sell them something, I might consider weakening Indiana's law.
